Plan Summary

Mission Statement: We believe alcohol and drug abuse to be one of the leading health and social problems of our nation today.

Alcohol and drug abuse negatively affects virtually every member of our society through its impact on crime, families, health, education, employment and economics.

We believe an important step toward the eradication of alcohol and drug abuse is to address the problem through the combined efforts of citizens at the community level.

We support the coordination of a community-based comprehensive drug-free network to address the problems associated.

History: The Warrick County Drug-Free Council was founded in April 1990. The LCC started and stalled several times in its first years of existence, but was reorganized in 1993, and has been operating routinely since then. In 1996, the Warrick County Drug-Free Council created bylaws and hired a Coordinator. The LCC has primarily sponsored programs centering on drug-free events for area youth, substance-abuse counseling for the indigent, law enforcement equipment, and programs for the elderly.

Warrick County includes the cities of Boonville (the county seat), Chandler, Newburgh, Tennyson, Folsomville, Tennyson, Selvin, Elberfeld and Lynnvile, and is one of the fastest growing counties in the state. Its geographical makeup includes both remote, rural areas and busy, suburban areas. These geographical differences add to the LCC's challenges, as each area represents its own set of problems. The entire county is served by the Warrick County School Corporation. Student enrollment for grades K-12 is approximately 9,000 students. The 2003 Census places Warrick County's population at 55,465.

Our LCC has partnered with several other community organizations, such as the Warrick County Domestic Violence Task Force, Warrick County First Steps/Step Ahead Council and Warrick County Community Systemwide Response on a regular basis during 1997. Other partnerships include the City of Boonville, the Warrick County School Corporation, the Warrick County Tobacco Coalition, a local treatment facility, and law enforcement agencies including city, county and state departments.

The Warrick County labor force was reported as 29,660 in 2004. Although much of Warrick County is rural, 97.8% of the county workforce is employed in non-farm settings. The largest employers in the area are ALCOA, the Warrick County School Corporation, Deaconess Gateway Hospital, St. Mary's Warrick Hospital, and Wal-Mart, as well as a diverse assortment of service-related industry and governmental agencies.

Summary of the Comprehensive Community Plan:

The following problems were identified as significant problems during the planning process:

- Ability of law enforcement agencies to effectively communicate and strategize.
- Ongoing youth ATOD use, ATOD abuse and drug dealing.
- Law enforcement need for appropriate equipment and other tools.
- ATOD still a contributing factor in county domestic violence cases.
- Lack of insurance coverage prohibits families from seeking treatment for ATOD issues.
- LCC participants and local service providers in need of ATOD-related training.

Some of the issues the LCC plans to review in 2006 include expanding our membership and exploring other funding options. Rarely increasing budgets are an issue, as the LCC generally has to turn down funding requests due to lack of funds.

3. Describe the grant process and requirements for the grantees:

- a. Each year in October, the Warrick County Drug-Free Council places an advertisement in the Warrick County newspapers that proposals are being accepted for events/projects related to the treatment, prevention or law enforcement of alcohol and other drugs.
 - i. All grantees from the previous year are sent an application in the mail.
- b. After the deadline date, the Coordinator reviews and screens all applications ensuring they meet the established criteria. (see attached forms A and B)
- c. Coordinator then distributes the requests to the appropriate committee chairs; the three committees hold meetings to review their funding requests.
- d. At the December LCC meeting, each committee makes their funding recommendations to the full council. If necessary, questions are answered and discussion is held about various requests. The full council then votes on each category's funding requests.
- e. Letters go out informing applicant's of their approval, denial, or conditional funding. They also receive a funding agreement that must be immediately signed and returned to the Coordinator (see form C) and a report form that must be returned two weeks after their event, or if it is a year-long project, by December 15 of the funding year (see form D).
- f. The Coordinator completes claim forms for all approved grants and submits them to the Warrick County Auditor's Office; county commissioners then approve or deny payment of the claim. Most grants are paid out in February of the funding year.
- g. Requirements of grantees include:
 - i. Carrying out their event/project as stated in their funding request; if they are unable to do so, they must come before the LCC to resolve the issue(s) they are facing.
 - ii. Spending their requested funds for the event/project described in the funding request; if any funds are left over, they should be returned to the LCC.

RE: Request for Proposals

The Warrick County Drug-Free Council is requesting proposals for projects which will serve to meet identified needs in the community. The mission of the Council is to develop and implement a comprehensive strategy to prevent and reduce the incidence of alcohol and other drug abuse in Warrick County. The following Problem Statements have been identified by the Council:

Problem Statement 1: Constant changes in the supply and distribution of controlled substances in Warrick County challenge the law enforcement agencies' abilities to communicate and strategize effectively.

Problem Statement 2: Drug activity, including dealing, continues among Warrick County youth.

Problem Statement 3: Law enforcement agencies need for equipment and other tools, to address ATOD related issues, increases faster than local law enforcement budgets.

Problem Statement 4: The use of "gateway" drugs (alcohol, tobacco and marijuana) is leading to the abuse of stronger drugs as youth "age up" to "higher highs".

Problem Statement 5: Despite efforts made to date in Warrick County, alcohol and other substance abuse continues to be a contributing factor in domestic violence.

Problem Statement 6: Comprehensive family insurance appears to be a barrier to needy individuals and families seeking both outpatient and inpatient treatment services to address substance abuse issues.

Problem Statement 7: Warrick County LCC participants and local service providers would benefit from training in the area of substance abuse. It is felt that resources to provide ongoing training is limited.

The Council would like to take this opportunity to encourage you/your agency to submit a proposal for meeting the needs in any of the following categories: Prevention, Treatment (all treatment programs must be State Certified), and Law Enforcement/Criminal Justice. Please be advised of the following:

- if requested, prospective applicants must make a brief verbal presentation to the Warrick County Drug-Free Council
- all funding recipients will be required to provide follow-up reports to the Warrick County Drug-Free Council.
